

Client name: _____

Financial Life Planning

The R-Factor

If we are having this conversation 3 years in the future and you're looking back over that 3 year time span today, what has to have happened in your life, both personally and professionally, for you to feel happy with your progress?

Where do your greatest concerns lie?

Where are your opportunities?

What are your strengths for dealing with the dangers or concerns?